Message From the Pastor

What God does first and best and most is trust people with their moment in history. ~Walter Brueggemann

So how do you think we are doing with our moment?

I do not know about you, but I have had to do some good self-talk as I watch how things are going sometimes. I can feel overwhelmed when I think about our church members going without paychecks or a tornado destroying a PCUSA church in Alabama or someone suffering from the long good-bye of dementia. I have to step back and ask "Laura, what is God calling you to do here and now?" Sometimes God gives us the gift of clarity and focus as we seek those answers.

How you answer that question will differ. Maybe you are led to serve in a new way in ministry at church — even taking a risk to do something new. Maybe you are being called to give up a dream of what could have been for something better that God needs you to do. Maybe you are being called to just keep getting through this day and then the next. Maybe you need to stand up for yourself or someone else to bring dignity, wholeness, and peace.

Collectively as Fort Hill Church we are called to ask that question "What is God calling us to do in our moment in history?" This is the work of discernment which falls to your elders whom you elected and entrusted to serve. So pray for our leaders, of all kinds, in that work. Two things that have emerged in the last year.

First, we are called to "Grow Disciples" which is one part of our mission. The spiritual life of disciples is shaped by what we do. So we adopted Fort Hill Faith Practices, those habits which grow our Christian character. When you decide your call, other things are let go. So in order to "Pray Daily" for instance, we have to commit ourselves to make room for that in our lives until it is as natural as breathing. Maybe that means less time surfing the internet or letting go of toxic worry. A new habit takes the place of those things that are meaningless or unhealthy.

Secondly, we are called to lead the way in Clemson campus ministry for the larger Presbyterian Church. In the coming weeks you will hear more about how we will do that with God's help. We completed a wonderful renovation to make our facilities warm and welcoming. And now we will make a bold effort to make PSA and college ministry a sustainable mission for the long term. We are planted in this place for a purpose, and God's call to us is to call young people to be disciples, too. Listen for more about our Crucial Calling campaign to invest in student ministry.

God is trusting us with our moment in history. We have the gifts of the Spirit to serve in these ways. I have no doubt that years from now, we will look back and think, "I got to be a part of that" and be thankful.

Thank you for your love of Christ and His Church.

Laura Conrad, Pastor

Joining together on a journey of Christian faith, we seek to be Disciples of Christ and to share God's love in our community and around the world.

We do this as we Glorify God, Grow Disciples, Meet Human Needs.

Choir Corner

January flew by and here we are in February — the shortest month of the year. It is truly amazing how much can be packed into these 28 days — Ground Hog day; the birthdays of two of our presidents, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln; one of the most popular holidays—Valentine's Day—where we share our love with our significant other along with children, grandchildren, and others. Youth Sunday will be on February 3 and new officers will be ordained and installed on February 24.

I truly am thankful for all of these special days. There is a reminder of special people, special memories, important times in our lives. It's easy to rush past these days and times with just "doing" and getting it all over with and not taking into account who, why, and what it all means. I hope to be more intentional with each day and be conscious of what is precious and meaningful.

Take time to breathe deep the breath of God. Share a hug. Send a card. Call someone you have been thinking about to say hello. Show someone how much you appreciate and love them. And smile at those you pass along the way. I have no doubt God will smile down upon you as you do!

Smiling-n-Singing,

Margaret

Many of our choir members attended Festival by the Sea the last weekend in January in Charleston. It was our 8th year to go. As always, it was a wonderful experience. Those attending this year were: Charles & Mary Barron, Mark & Robbi Stokes, Mark, Mary, & Sarah Morrison, Tom & Connie Lawrence, Marlene Nicholas, Cindy Sloan, Charlotte Gruosso, John Sherman, Keith & Risse Snelgrove, and Raymond & Margaret MacKay.

Communion Preparation

Have you ever wondered how the bread and juice for 10:45 communion gets to the table every month?

You might not realize there is a Communion Team of a few volunteers who rotate throughout the year to make sure communion goes as smoothly as possible. We are now in need of a few more volunteers on our team and are hoping a few of you have the time to help out about three weekends a year. Communion months alternate between intinction and trays, so here's a brief description of what's involved for each one.

Intinction Service — Prep work involves purchasing the juice and bread loaves. Whole loaves of bread are wrapped for the choir, balcony, and front stations; chalices are filled with juice. After service is over communion items are taken back to the sacristy, plates and chalices are cleaned, and linens taken home to wash and iron for the next month. *Pottery pitcher, chalices, and plates are used for the intinction services.

Traditional Tray Service — Prep work involves purchasing the juice and gluten free bread. The bread is cubed and placed on silver trays, juice poured in individual cups. Stacks of silver trays are placed on the table in the front. After service is over communion items are taken back to the sacristy, silver items wiped clean, linen taken home to wash and iron for the next month. *Silver pitcher, chalice, and stacking tray sets are used for the traditional tray service.

The Communion Team is currently Beth & Jerry Chapman, Robin Denny, Pam & Jerry Waddle, Lauren Young, and Suzan Simmons.

If you are willing to volunteer, love paying attention to detail, and have about two hours a few weekends a year, we would love to welcome you to our group. Please email Suzan@alumni.clemson.edu for more detailed information.

Inside the “Den”

What Does It Say About a Church When the Youth Lead Worship?

“Ah, Lord God,” I said, “I don’t know how to speak because I’m only a child.” The Lord responded, “Don’t say, ‘I’m only a child.’ Where I send you, you must go; what I tell you, you must say.” — Jeremiah 1:6-7

There are few ways that a congregation can show its love, its support, and especially its trust of the youth in the church quite like giving them the opportunity to lead worship for the whole community. Think about that for a moment. Where else in our world do we hand the microphone over to children? To teenagers? Where else can their voice be heard clearly and without pushback from us adults who think we know best?

I think there is something Kingdom-like that happens whenever we let our children lead us in worship. One of our texts for Youth Sunday this year includes the passage above from Jeremiah. He, too, had let the world convince him that he was too young to be a prophet, too young to have anything to say. Or so he thought.

God, as we know, had great plans in mind for Jeremiah and did not see his young age as a disqualifier. “Don’t say, ‘I’m only a child.’” Many stories throughout Scripture attest to God making a new way in the world through the hands and voices of young people. I imagine even the 30-year-old Jesus received a few snide comments about his age from the experienced religious scholars of his day.

We would do well to listen when our children speak, for they may be declaring the Word of God. And if you have an interest in seeing God speak through young people, I invite you to join us for Youth Sunday on February 3. But be warned! They may look like children, but they speak like prophets.

Joyfully,

Dana

News from Presbyterian Women

Valentines for Our College Students

Presbyterian Women, led by Rebecca Ackerman, will be assembling Valentine surprises for our 16 Fort Hill Presbyterian college students. You can help! We are doing something different this year. Instead of Valentine boxes we will be sending Valentines containing a $5 gift card for Starbucks, Chick-fil-A, or Subway (you choose which one). Please put your contribution(s) in an envelope, designate for "Student Valentines", and place it in the PW Box in the FHOG office (located to the right of the entrance to the Administration Building), no later than Friday, February 8. The Valentines will be assembled and mailed to our students. Thank you for sharing the love.

For questions, please contact Rebecca Ackerman: arebecc@clemson.edu

PW Winter Retreat — Saturday, February 2

Attention ALL WOMEN of Fort Hill Presbyterian Church

Mark your calendars for our Winter Retreat on:

Saturday, February 2
9:30 am to 3:00 pm
Richland Presbyterian Church

Cost: $20 includes a catered lunch, tea and coffee

Speaker: Rev. Dr. Charles J. Dougherty

"A cheerful heart is good medicine, but a downcast spirit dries up the bones"

Proverbs 17:22

Dr. Dougherty describes himself as a Christian humorist "who has spent the last 40+ year career in ministry bringing the healing power of 'clean humor' back to the American public." He is an ordained Presbyterian (USA) minister (Ret.) who has conducted numerous retreats and workshops on the topics of the Healing Power of Human and Spiritual Healing.

Bring along a desire to laugh out loud in celebration of this wonderful life we have, and for a time of fellowship and spiritual renewal! Bring a friend and join us of this soul-nourishing event!

Get your name on the list by contacting a member of our PW Retreat Committee:

Laurie Lefevre (864.442.5199, lefevre.laura@hotmail.com), Claudette Bennett (864.654.4820, johnneb@mindspring.com), or Myra Cato (864.207.8765, myracato@bellsouth.net).

Family Promise at Fort Hill Church, March 3-10

The time to serve is near, and once again we need you!

From March 3-10, Fort Hill Presbyterian Church hosts Family Promise in our church, housing and feeding families who have nowhere else to go but on the street. Please consider being a part of this worthwhile mission right in our own church! This successful program helps equip families with counseling, educational programs, life skill classes, and encouragement while they strive to find jobs, housing, and their independence. We provide an evening meal and shelter, and generally need up to 50 volunteers for the week. Online sign-ups begin in early February, and a white Sign-up board will be near the FHOG office for those who prefer to use that method for volunteering.

For questions, please contact Mary Barron at mb1cb1@bellsouth.net or Linda Gahan at glinda1942@gmail.com.

Called to Serve

When you are "Called to Serve" in some capacity of church leadership, it is a great honor! It means that your fellow members trust in your integrity, strength to do a job and do it well, and your example of Christ-like living that will be a model for others that are young in the faith. Yes, it takes a time commitment, and many of us have busy lives outside of our church, and family commitments, too! But as this New Year begins, think back to the times you volunteered to step up to the call, and the blessings that followed that decision! When was the last time you stepped out and said, "Yes, I will do it," and felt the assurance that all you had to do was to allow God to lead the way!

Please share who you are, your gifts, your energy, your compassion, your intelligence and your leadership with us and accept the call when it comes. You will enrich your life, and bless our church with your service.

PW needs women to fill the leadership roles for 2019-2020 year! Prayerfully consider accepting your call to serve!

From the Finance Ministry

2018 has come to a close, and total income through year end was $934,131 while expenses were $936,163 leaving a deficit of $2,031. Overall expenses ended at 96.5% of budget, while income finished at 96.3%. As you can see, expenses and income finished slightly below budget. Session ministry chairs did a great job of managing expenses, and 2019 will bring continued and new financial challenges. Your ongoing financial support is needed for Fort Hill to continue its ministries to members, community, and around the world.

Bridging Generations Update:

Pledged giving for the month was $25,281.66. Non-pledge giving was $12,229, undesignated memorial gifts were $125, and interest income of $0.59 combined for a total of $37,636.25 for the month.

Total income year to date:
$198,737.82

Loan Principal Balance:
$598,002
