Message From the Pastor

December 2024

Beginnings Start in the Darkness

Advent (the season before Christmas) begins in the darkest time of the year. We look up and see the beauty of moon and stars piercing the darkness. We see beauty in the dark. We can see the hope and promise of a new day, a new beginning again.

As our Advent devotional writer states, "The dark of night holds promise. Advent points us to this same promise: God is not absent when all appears dark. God waits with us as our eyes adjust to the beauty and meaning that can be found in the dark. The key is to believe that something is there — that something is here — for us, something good and beautiful. Something that is worth our patience. As Advent begins, our nights stretch long. There is more darkness now than any other time of year. Let's walk together into the night to see what God reveals."

We learn to walk in the dark, not afraid, but we begin by lighting one candle, then two, slow walking into the joy of Christ's birth. So maybe this year you need Advent. Don't rush to the manger. Stop clicking on Amazon. Declutter your calendar. Breathe and rest in God's presence. And don't forget to look up. The Shepherds did. Because they were out in the darkness, they could not see and hear the message of the angels. They were the first to hear the message of Good News. Maybe folks so attuned to darkness and night, hear this news better than any of us. Sometimes that news is brassy and loud, and sometimes it is a whisper, born out of hardship and trouble, a hard-earned hope, like that expressed in Sarah Speed's poem.

Despite It All

What's to love? she asked.
I understood the question.
I've seen the riot gear,
the tear gas,
the names of children wiped from this war-stained world.
I've seen the spray paint Swastikas.
and the Proud Boys with their flags.
I've heard grandmothers at church pray in urgent, desperate whispers.
And I've watched young mothers cry, because teachers carry guns.
I've felt the tremor of an earthquake.
I've felt the heat of climate change.
I've seen the temple curtain tear in two.

But despite it all, the bell that won't stop tolling,
the words that won't stop clanging through my heart,
are, so much.
There is so much left to love.
So much left to hope for.

Here's to hope, peace, joy, and most of all, LOVE,

Laura Conrad, Pastor

Joining together on a journey of Christian faith, we seek to be Disciples of Christ and to share God's love in our community and around the world.

We do this as we Glorify God, Grow Disciples, Meet Human Needs.

During this season of giving and remembrance, we invite you to 'honor' or 'remember' family and friends who have impacted your life by making a contribution to the JOY offering. Your gift, of any value, will be used for wreaths, greenery, poinsettias for FHPC and support underserved communities. Please complete the Honor and Remember form that is available in the Narthex, FHOG office, or by contacting Morgan in the Church Office (864-654-2061 or communications@forthillchurch.org). Checks payable to FHPC and the completed form should be submitted to the church office by December 1. Memorials and honorariums will be recognized in the bulletin and The Window. Poinsettias will be available for pick up following the Christmas services.

Advent Devotional Calendar

This year our advent devotional comes to us by our friends at Sanctified Art. The devotion for this year is an advent calendar. Each day participants will be given a daily task, to center themselves for the coming birth of Jesus Christ. This devotional can be accessed on the Church Facebook page, the Church Instagram page, and physical copies can be found in the Narthex.

Blue Christmas Service

There are many popular songs this time of year that tell us that Christmas is the “most wonderful time of the year,” and while that is certainly true for many, there are others who don’t feel that way. The loss of a loved one, loss of a job, a relationship gone bad, and other painful memories or unfulfilled longings are valid reasons to mourn rather than celebrate. It’s understandable, and acceptable when we feel blue rather than jolly at Christmas. During the holidays, more than any other time of the year, there are so many expectations of being joyful. We are supposed to attend gatherings with a smile on our faces and sing “Joy to the World” with gusto. But for those that are grieving, putting on this mask of cheerfulness can be exhausting.

The Blue Christmas Service at Fort Hill Presbyterian Church, on Thursday, December 19th at 7:00 pm in Tartan Hall is for all those who feel the need for greater hope and light during the Christmas season. It’s a service for those living in pain, those filled with questions and doubts, those longing for a time of contemplation to try to make sense of our world and their lives. It’s also for their friends and loved ones, for all those journeying alongside someone who finds the season difficult for whatever reason. All are invited to come lay their struggles before the God who meets us where we are. The significance of Immanuel, God with us, is particularly important when we find ourselves overwhelmed or underwhelmed by the season. On this evening we will light candles, express our doubts and our hopes, sing, and pray as we seek the peace of God’s presence which can transform the world and each one of us.

Mental Health Awareness: Grief

Since September, the secular world has tried to convince us to shop, buy, decorate, and indulge in order to celebrate Christmas. Let us rejoice that as Christians we can focus on Advent, special worship services, beautiful music, and warm gatherings as we come to December 25th and the birth of Christ the Lord. But let us remember that not everyone feels like celebrating with joy this season. Some hearts feel grief, not joy. One’s grief may come from losing a loved one, a broken relationship, job loss, failing health, political turmoil, or even hurricane losses.

When we feel alone, sad, anxious, or overwhelmed, turn to scripture for comfort, hope, and good news.

Joshua 1:5 “I will be with thee; I will not forsake thee.”

Joshua 1:9 “Be strong and of good courage; be not afraid, neither be dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.”

Psalms 34:18 “The Lord is close to the broken-hearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit.”

1 Peter 5:7 “Case all your anxiety on him, because he cares for you.”

Praise the Lord that God is always with us, even in our losses, sadness, and grief. He walks beside us, behind us, before us, and above us to help us navigate through troubled times. We need to pray and to believe. The closer we are to Him, the closer He is to us.

Please attend the FHPC Blue Christmas service on December 19th at 7:00 pm to join with others who are hurting and need to feel the love, grace, and nearness of our healing God. Bring a friend with you and feel blessed and peaceful as you depart this service.

Fellowship Activities

Book Swap

The Book Swap was again a great success. We collected soooo many books of a variety of genres, including lots of children's books. It was fun to see people suggest books to other readers and then see them taking armloads and boxes of books home. Thank you for all the donations!! The leftover books were donated to several thrift stores and the Oconee library system.

November Notes of Thanks

Thanks to all who signed the Thanksgiving cards! Our congregation sent out cards of thanks to our members living at Clemson Downs, Foothills Presbyterian Community in Easley and those not able to attend services due to health issues. We had a few extras to send to the preschool staff. All of these people are important to us and the LORD and deserve a message of thanks for everything they have done in the past and continue to do.

Angel Vespers Supper

Our beautiful children will be presenting the Christmas story on the evening of December 18th at 6:30. The Fellowship Ministry team will be serving a soup and chili supper prior to this at 5:30 in Tartan Hall. Come to share in a nice hot meal and then stay to see our children as they dress up and retell the story of Jesus' birth.

Other Fellowship Opportunities in the Fall:

Book Club (will continue to meet on the second Monday of each month at 7 pm in the Den downstairs)

Thursday, November 14th, our own Ron Rash joined us to discuss his recent book, The Caretaker. It was a great conversation with him, learning about the location of the book, why he created certain characters and named them as he did and discussing his plot and ending. Thanks Ron!! Book Club will be having a potluck in the Den at FHPC on December 9th at 6:30 pm. Each attendee will bring a dish to share and a new children's book to donate to the Clemson Child Development Center. All are welcome! On Monday, January 13th we will discuss The Refugee's Daughter by Carolyn Newton. Carolyn is a member of FHPC and this is her first book to be published!! She will share her story with us, so come and join us!

Craft Connections

We will meet December 22nd after the 10:45 worship service in the Club Room. Bring a craft you are working on and join in the fun conversations and fellowship.

Also, thank you to Bo Crader for chaperoning and driving the bus! Together, we learned that we are children of God, and God loves us for being ourselves. We wondered how to let our light shine and how to share that light with others!

From the Finance Ministry

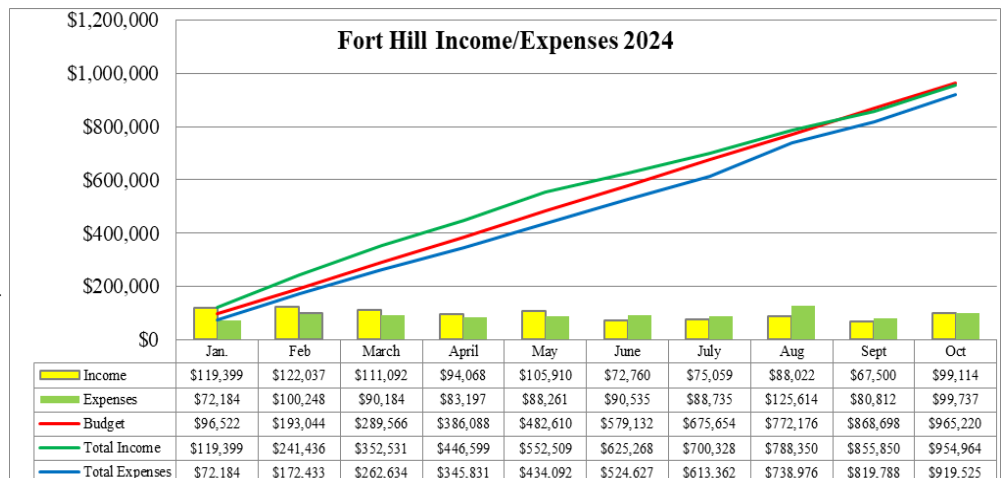

Through October, pledge and offering income was $954,964 while expenses for the first 10 months were $919,525 for a surplus of $35,439. Overall expenses are at 77% of budget, while income is at 82.4%. Income is approximately on budget while expenses are roughly 6% below.

If you have not returned your 2025 pledge, please prayerfully consider your pledge for the coming year, so Fort Hill can continue its ministries to members, community and around the world.

Bridging Generations Update:

Through the end of October, total income was $233,601.12 out of $409,994 in total pledges. We spent $180,000 of those funds to pay off the Building Fund loan with the final payment made in June. The balance and additional money received will be used for projects which include replacing the sanctuary 33-year-old lighting system and updating the sound technology for in-person and online worship. Another project is the development of the outdoor space in the "backyard" that all ministries of the church can use to support their specific activities.

The Christ Child Box Project

Christmas and the holiday season are one of most people's favorite times of the year. And even if we may not realize it, we believe that along with celebrating the birth of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, one of the main reasons we find such joy is the fact that we get to give gifts to others. It is especially rewarding when we give a gift that we know is going to bring happiness or comfort to someone that is less fortunate, maybe to someone we may never know.

Our church is very generous to our community throughout the year, but we started a seasonal ministry a few years ago that we deemed the "Christ Child Boxes" where each family can participate together in filling a box with food items to stock the food pantry at Clemson Community Care. The boxes for collecting those items are available in the Narthex of the church along with a list of needed items.

CHRIST CHILD BOXES

Filled boxes may be returned to the Narthex anytime during the month of December.

From the Christian Action Ministry: we hope everyone will receive a blessing from participating in this ministry.
